One of a Kind Needlepoint Hobo

Style: 21226444

Write the 1st Review

Handmade in Los Angeles from 100% vintage materials found across the United States, this bag is a stunning original! Features a beautiful needlepoint exterior with colorful roses and horse designs. The leather used in each bag comes from vintage equestrian tack, while the closures are all flea market finds that have been specially cut for this item. The 100% linen lining is made from reclaimed grain sacks. Since each bag is a one-of-a-kind, what you receive may vary from what is pictured online.

*By Totem
*22" wide, 19" long, 7" deep

Totem utilizes salvaged textiles from the past, thoughtfully rescued and given new life in their Los Angeles based studio. Navajo blankets, vintage equestrian tack, and estate needle point canvases come together in their unique line of handbags, scarves, and other accessories.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

discussion about this product:

Morgan at 4:01:36 PM on 08/28/2011
"Would this fit around an arm like an arm cuff?"

vintage@freepeople.com at 4:24:00 PM on 08/29/2011
"Hello, This is more of a bracelet. The diameter is only 2 1/4" so it would probably not fit very high on the arm. Hope this helps!"
